

40,000 NEIGHBORS LOOK ON MR. SHERMAN'S FACE

Body Lies in State in Utica Court House During Part of the Day.

MR. TAFT TO ATTEND

Private Service at 1 o'clock To-day and Service in Church an Hour Later.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 1.—The body of Vice-President Sherman was borne from his late home in Genesee street to the Onondaga County Court House this afternoon and from 3 to 9 o'clock to-night it lay in state on a catafalque in the rotunda of the building.

A detail of fifty soldiers from the Utica National Guard companies acted as a military guard, two infantrymen at attention standing at the head of the casket, one standing at the foot and the others keeping the throng moving. It was estimated that in the six hours that the body lay in state fully 40,000 persons passed the casket for a last view of the features of their dead neighbor.

The casket is of mahogany, heavily moulded and covered with broadcloth. At the sides and ends are bar handles of antique silver. The Vice-President as he reposed in his casket showed few traces of his long illness. He is clothed in a suit of black broadcloth. On one of the fingers of his left hand is a ring of gold, a gift to him from Mrs. Sherman a number of years ago. The Vice-President will wear it to his grave.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the body was borne back to the Sherman residence. There it will be kept in the privacy of the family until the hour of the funeral tomorrow afternoon. Only relatives and intimate friends will be privileged to see the remains at the home. The members of the Republican Club to-night escorted the body from the court house back to the Sherman home.

The tribute paid by fully 1,500 Uticans this afternoon in assembling at the late residence of the Vice-President and acting as escort to the remains when they were taken to the court house in state was a spontaneous expression of the grief of the city. Without any definite prearrangement Uticans in all walks of life met at the Sherman home before 2 o'clock and formed a column of escort for the remains. In the column were more than 300 members of Utica Lodge No. 2, B. P. O. Elks, of which the Vice-President was a charter member. The escort of 1,500 men marched in solemn procession before the hearse. A drizzling rain had prevailed throughout the day, and just as the body was borne into the court house a storm with an accompanying downpour swept the city.

All arrangements for the funeral services to-morrow afternoon have been completed. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon there will be private services at the Sherman home for members of the Vice-President's family and relatives. These services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Louis H. Holden of the Dutch Reformed Church, of which Mr. Sherman was for many years a member and an active and devoted supporter. This will be the regular service of the Reformed Church.

The services at the First Presbyterian Church will begin about 2 o'clock and will be in charge of the Rev. Dr. Melancthon W. Stryker, president of Hamilton College. Vice-President Sherman and Dr. Stryker were friends for many years. They were members of the same fraternity at Hamilton. Dr. Stryker knew Mr. Sherman more intimately perhaps than any other person outside the Vice-President's immediate family.

Dr. Stryker is conducting the services at the church Dr. Stryker will be assisted by the Rev. Dr. Holden and the Rev. Dr. Brody.

President Taft will occupy the first pew to the left of the centre aisle. With him will be the members of his party. To the left of the national chief executive will be seated the honorary pallbearers and across the aisle will be the active bearers. The block of pews back of the one occupied by the President will be held for the members of Congress, Representatives and the members of the House of Representatives. On the right side of the centre aisle the pews from the front to the rear of the church will be reserved for the members of the family of Mr. Sherman and their immediate friends.

The casket will be placed on a dais in front of the front of the church. It will be borne by members of the Conkling Unconditionalists.

At the request of the members of the Chamber of Commerce all business houses and manufacturing plants and other places of business in Utica will close from 1 o'clock until 4 to-morrow.

He will return from Utica to New York city for a final political conference and will then go to Cincinnati, where he will cast his ballot and await news of the national election results.

The President had expected to make a few more political speeches, particularly from the rear platform of the train on his way to Ohio, but because of the death of Mr. Sherman he will not do so. To a caller to-day who came to discuss the political situation the President said he much preferred to cease all political activity at once.

Mr. Taft will leave New York late on Sunday so as to spend practically all of Monday travelling through his native State, from the northeast to the southwest corner. He will travel in a private car attached to a regular train over the New York Central Lines. At the request of the Ohio State central committee he will appear on the rear platform and greet the people at each station where the train shall stop on its regular schedule.

In compliance with an executive order, practically the entire Government service will be a standstill to-morrow. All executive departments will be closed for the entire day. At the hour of the funeral the Vice-President's salute of nineteen guns will be fired by all warships on matter what part of the world they may be.

BREAKS MARRIAGE AT SIXTEEN.

Court Annals Wedding of Boy and Girl Elopers.

The romance of a child elopement came to an end in the Supreme Court yesterday when Justice Geiger signed an order annulling the marriage of Wesley Harcourt Ritter, son of Edward P. Ritter of the Hotel Endicott and a director of the Merchants and Manufacturers Exchange, with Helen Applegate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Applegate of Mount Carmel Way, Ocean Grove.

Young Ritter was attending a boys' school on the Hudson and was a few days past 16 when in the summer of 1909 he met Miss Applegate, who was not yet 16. On June 30 of that year they went to the parsonage of the Rev. E. Connor House at Belmar with two companions and by signing that they were of legal age induced the clergyman to marry them.

They never met again. Young Ritter took his bride home that night and as soon as he broke the news to his father a suit to annul the marriage was started. The parents of the bride welcomed the suit.

WHIRLWIND COURTSHIP OF PRINCETON JUNIOR.

Mr. and Mrs. Hostetter, Rested From Touring for Preacher, Begin Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter, Jr., are at the Waldorf. Mr. Hostetter is a Princeton junior.

Two weeks ago he came to town to be introduced to twenty-year-old Miss Margaret Brown, daughter of the late Judge William Brown of Jacksonville, Ill. Edward F. Goltz, Jr., son of the Democratic National Committee man of Missouri and a roommate of Mr. Hostetter, who is 23 years old, introduced them. In a very short time the Princeton man and Miss Brown were engaged to be married.

Miss Brown was at the Waldorf, having come on to see the Princeton-Dartmouth game. She and Mr. Hostetter were seen together in the lobby of the hotel last Wednesday for Jersey City, but they found that marriage licenses are rather more difficult to get than they used to be, and they started another direction.

That night F. W. Gardner of St. Louis, a classmate of Hostetter, went to the Waldorf to take Miss Brown, whom he had known in the West, to the theatre. She was not in, for at that time she was sitting by Mr. Hostetter in a Pullman near Providence, R. I., and Mr. Hostetter was sending telegrams of asking for an Episcopal clergyman to be ready for a marriage ceremony. Providence yielded no available clergyman.

At last the couple in Maine. At Kittery they got the Episcopal clergyman to-day, the Rev. Dr. Hayes, to marry them.

Mr. Hostetter immediately telegraphed young Goltz and asked him to inform Hostetter's parents, who have a summer home in Beverly. They whirled to Portsmouth, N. H., in a machine and there were general congratulations. Mr. Hostetter was surrounded by Princeton men at the Waldorf yesterday and Mrs. Hostetter sat in complete oblivion to her surroundings, saying nothing that her husband had to say.

Mr. Hostetter admits that he is not a bit downhearted and says that the wedding trip will end at Hot Springs and begin to-day.

$13,000 FOR "EMERALD POOL."

J. B. Killeheimer Buys Two Big Canvases at Stewart Sale.

Notable among the paintings put under the hammer last night at the Clark Art Rooms, 5 West Forty-fourth street, was an Albert Bierstadt, "The Emerald Pool," from the A. T. Stewart collection. The canvas, which measures 52x125 inches, was sold to J. B. Killeheimer, 1940 Seventh Avenue, for $13,000.

Another big canvas, "The Emerald Pool," was sold to J. B. Killeheimer for $1,500. It was a reproduction of a painting by a Japanese artist, which he had bought for $4,500.

This also is a large canvas measuring 30x70 inches. The size of the two paintings makes them unequalled to any but the most important collection.

Members of the Art Club bought a large oil painting of Moliere reading a play to his mother, which will be presented to the club. The work is by an Italian artist, Gatti.
